Tim Bourke's Problem – Solution

As you have eleven top tricks, the key point of the hand is to minimise the chance of losing two diamond tricks. Of course, you could rely on a simple finesse of the queen of diamonds, which in practice would only be a 50% chance (but it is much less than that in this class of problems!) Suppose the full deal is:

♠ 5	♠ 2
♥ 10 9 8 6 3	♥ A K 5 4 2
♦ K J 8 2	♦ 10 9 6
♣ 9 7 2	♣ J 10 5 4
♠ A Q J 10 7 4 3
♦ A Q 4
♣ K Q 3

Your first move should be to cover the ten of hearts with dummy's jack, forcing the king or ace from East. You ruff in your hand and play a trump to dummy's king, which draws the outstanding trumps. You next lead the queen of hearts, on which you plan to throw a diamond if East plays low. Assuming East covers the queen of hearts with his remaining heart honour, you will ruff and then cash king, queen and ace of clubs to eliminate that suit. Finally, you lead the seven of hearts and discard the four of diamonds from your hand. On the above layout, West has to win the trick and surrender the contract with his return. A diamond will be into your ace-queen tenace and a fourth round of hearts (or a club, if he held one) would give you a ruff-and-discard. either way, you will make ten tricks.

You may ask "What would happen if West began with the king of hearts or East held the eight of hearts?" The answer is that you would be forced to rely on the diamond finesse. All these manoeuvres in hearts achieved was to make certain of twelve tricks when West began with ♥10-9-8 and East with ♥A-K.

As most players will play the king from ace-king at trick one, then if East plays the ace of hearts then you might decide to place West with ♥K109xx. The endplay is now achievable by ruffing the seven of hearts and endplaying West with dummy's remaining heart honour.

Top Table Action

The fourth round of the Seniors' Teams saw the two top seeds pitted against each other at table 1. There was plenty of action to keep the kibitzers interested.

Board 2 enlivened proceedings pretty much from the word go:

Gabi Lorentz opened 3♣ and George Gaspar doubled. John Lester exerted maximum pressure immediately with a 6♣ bid but Bobby Richman was not that easily deterred and bid 6♠. The ♣K lead saw Bobby concede a trump and claim for 1430.

John's bid was not universally duplicated. At one table, after the same opening bid and double, West passed! Ron Klinger commented that, to him, this seems right. Why tell the opponents about the huge club fit?

The auction ran out of control when North leapt into the 6♣ bidder's breach. Over 6♣, South tried 6♥ and North corrected to 6♠. South liked his hand (at least temporarily) and raised to the grand. West was not a gentleman and, deciding that his Ace of trumps would probably take a trick, doubled. He was right though the imp score for +1530 and + 1630 is the same.

Terry Brown chose a different way to handle the West cards. Over 3♣ and a double, Terry tried the effect of 3♠!. North doubled and East and South passed – the latter salivating as he did so,. Now, Terry showed his support with a 5♣ bid. This got North to offer 5♦ which drew 5♥ from South and the auction closed sooner than it might.

Board 4 saw Bobby solve a two-way finesse position correctly, though, if I understand his explanation correctly, he got it right for the wrong reason.

Bobby was playing 3NT from the North seat after an auction which saw East/West remain silent.

East led the ♠10 which Bobby ran to the Jack. He played a heart to the King and Ace and John Lester returned a club to dummy's Queen. All this persuaded Bobby that West, rather than East, probably had the club length and so he played a spade to the Queen and ran the ♠10. If he had to lose two spade tricks then he wanted to lose the first to West – as it was, he only lost one spade trick and now cruised home in some comfort.

The next saw George choose an opening bid of which Bobby did not approve. This choice actually gave the opportunity for a system triumph but George had a wee whoopsie and the final, failing contract was as it would have been if Bobby's choice had been exercised in the beginning.

After two passes, George chose to open the South cards 1♣ (15+) while Bobby definitely prefers 1NT. Bobby responded 1NT which showed clubs and values. The partnership was now on course to reach 5♣. Sadly, George had a "senior's moment" (I know that's cruel but really, could you resist it in a report of a Seniors' Teams match?) and bid 2♦ which Bobby subsequently described as tending to deny three clubs – this removed 5♣ from the horizon and put, in its place, the non-making 3NT which would have been reached after Bobby's favoured 1NT opening.

Board 6 saw George decide to take the safe money rather than trying for a possibly inadequate penalty. It turned out that there was a lot of easy money available to him.

Gabi opened 1♦ and George overcalled 1♥. John tried 1♠ and Bobby bid the spade game. Gabi came in again with 4♠ and George had the opportunity to take an easy 500 with a double. However, he preferred to raise himself to 5♥. This ran back to Gabi, who went for the throat with a double of his own.

The spade lead went to declarer's Ace and George continued his singleton club to the Ace. He finessed the Queen of diamonds successfully and discarded dummy's losing spade on the ♦A. He conceded the trump Ace and claimed for +750.

Two boards later, it was Gabi's turn to get aggressive but, for him, it wasn't to work in practice although DeepFinesse's theory says it should have done.

After two passes, Gabi opened a systemic diamond and George overcalled 1NT. John put in 2♦, which Bobby doubled. Gabi now tried his luck with 3♣ - his luck was in - no-one doubled. Although DF says that North/South can make 3NT, in reality, it is probably only going to yield eight tricks. This is what eventuated in the other room where the contract was 2NT. For Gabi, nothing good happened.

The ♠A and K were cashed by George and Gabi had to ruff the Queen which followed. He played the King of hearts and George took his Ace. He exited a diamond and Gabi unsuccessfully tried the finesse. Bobby returned a club and George's Jack beat Gabi's 10.

A heart went back to the Jack and Queen and all the bad news became apparent when Gabi cashed the Ace of trumps. Five down for 250 to North/South probably left Gabi rueing the decision not to pass 2♦.

Onto board 11 and a good-looking decision to be conservative turned sour for John and Gabi. Make your decision - you hold

You open 1NT (12 - 15) after a pass by rho. Partner makes a 2♦ transfer bid and you respond 2♥. Partner bids 2NT - a game try in hearts. Do you go - with your near minimum including eight points in clubs?

John didn't but had few problems in wrapping up ten tricks. In the other room, West went to game and made the same number of tricks as John on this layout:

George passed and John opened 1♦. Bobby put in a vulnerable overcall of 1♠ (which may not be to everyone's taste). Gabi bid 2♣ and George hid in the bushes with a pass. 2NT from John saw Gabi offer 3♥ and George emerge from hiding with all the stealth of a dyspeptic rhinoceros by bidding 3♠. John batted this way with a disdainful 3NT.

Eleven tricks were not hard to acquire. In the other room, Ron Klinger also opened 1♦ which drew a 1♠ overcall from Zolly Nagy. David Hoffman doubled and David Lilley made a Bergen raise of spades by bidding 3♣. This ran back to David, who, reassured that partner had few wasted spade values, bid a confident 6♣ - his confidence was not misplaced even though the spade values were.

Two boards later and Ron and David got another one right.

When the dust had cleared, the second seeds had raised the 100 (in imps) while the pre-event favourites had to settle for single figures.

Good News, Bad News

Tania Lloyd was delighted to make a “no play” game in the fourth round of the Women’s Teams though was less impressed when she found out that DeepFinesse had it as a make.

Tania was playing 4♥ from North and received a trump lead. She tried an immediate finesse without success. West cashed her Ace of spades and returned a trump. Tania’s problems are obviously

- 1) Not enough tricks
- 2) No communication

She cashed the Ace of hearts and Ace of clubs and ruffed a club. She cashed her spade winners, pitching a club and two diamonds from dummy. East was afraid that, if she pitched a club, then Tania could set up clubs with one more ruff – little knowing that Tania couldn’t get to dummy often enough to enjoy the clubs. Accordingly, East pitched a diamond. A diamond to the Ace and a small diamond saw Tania’s Jack promoted to winning status for the tenth trick.

Paul Lavings (with a little help from DeepFinesse) gave me the winning line.

Take the trump lead with the Ace and continue with the Jack of spades. If East ducks this then declarer can cross-ruff her way to ten tricks. If, on the other hand, East takes her Ace, cashes her boss trump and continues the ♦10 then declarer is still OK.

She ducks the diamond in both hands to bring about

If West continues diamonds, declarer takes the Ace and places Ace of clubs and ruffs a club. The two top spades are cashed for two diamond pitches from the South hand. Now a diamond is ruffed with the Queen on table and another club ruff puts declarer in hand to draw the last trump and claim ten tricks.

When discussing the hand with Paul, he offered to give me a demonstration of DeepFinesse – an offer which I very happily accepted. Paul commented that one of the great things about the programme is the way in which it enables you to play through different lines on a hand and see what different outcomes eventuate from different lines. In particular, he mentioned that something which he had learnt from DeepFinesse was that, when faced with a 5-0 trump break, you should bend your mind to forcing the defender to ruff. He then gave me this example from the third round of the Seniors’.

A diamond was led to South's Ace and a small club saw Paul try the 9 and North ducked. Paul now cashed the Ace of trumps and received the bad news.

He cashed the Ace and Queen of hearts and played a club towards dummy's honours. North went in with the Ace and played a further club to the King on table.

Paul cashed the ♥K on which North discarded but when the ♥10 followed North felt obliged to ruff. The club continuation was ruffed with a low trump and the ♦K was cashed. A diamond was ruffed low by dummy and a heart with the 10 in the closed hand. North could over-ruff but now Paul had ten tricks.

So, for those of us below expert status, remember Paul Lavings' bridge tip – when faced by a bad trump break, force the defence to ruff. (Probably this will work better than my method of screaming abuse at the dealing machine.)
