

INSIDE COVER

Malcolm Quekett

Phone 9482 3111
Email inside.cover@wanews.com.au Follow twitter.com/insidecover

INDEX

Opinion	20, 21
Letters	22
The World	65-68
In the Courts	69
Speed camera locations	69
Business	8-page Liftout
Markets	5-8

OLD TRICKS

A super-impressive line-up of bridge players will gather under one roof next month.

The gathering is the inaugural SuperVets bridge tournament, hosted by the Bridge Association of WA. Association secretary John Aquino told us that all players would be over 80.

He said 96 players had registered, participants were aged in their 80s and 90s and there was even word of a player over 100.

Mr Aquino said bridge was a mind sport that required strategy, discipline, stamina, concentration and rapport with one's playing partner. The event had been organised to honour the extraordinary contribution older bridge players had made to the game over many years.

The tournament would be an annual event to be held during seniors' week each year.

The competition is set for November 11 at WA Bridge Club, Swanbourne, from 10am.